

PA INNKEEPERS' RIGHTS NOTICES

On October 30, 1996, Governor Tom Ridge signed into law the Pennsylvania Innkeepers' Rights Act. Its provisions took effect December 30, 1996. Its purpose is to allow Innkeepers to deny — without liability — accommodations, facilities or privileges to persons who do not demonstrate the financial ability to pay for the accommodations and services, or for specific public health and safety reasons. An Innkeeper may eject immediately from the premises any person who violates the provisions of the Act, so long as a copy of the Act is posted at or near the guest registration desk.

The new law also provides that in the event a guest causes damages to an establishment, he may be ordered to pay restitution, including damages for loss of revenue resulting from the inability to rent the room during the period, and damages to persons injured in person or property.

The Pennsylvania Tourism & Lodging Association is making copies of the Pennsylvania Innkeepers' Rights Act available. They have been designed in an inexpensive, easy-to-display "easel format" (see illustration) for posting in your registration area.

To obtain copies for your property, simply return this order form with your payment. Your notices will be sent to you as soon as we receive payment. If you have any question, please call the PTLA at (717) 232-8880.

Innkeepers/front desk personnel should familiarize themselves with the provisions of this Act in order to take advantage of its protection!

The "easel format" allows the Act to be displayed on a counter in your registration area. Or, if you prefer, they can be put into frames (we do not provide the frames).
